

Dear Sir or Madam,

the International Forum to Advance First Responder Innovation would like to make you aware of the opportunity to present and discuss your product. The event will be attended by representatives from emergency services, first responder organizations, and academia.

The European funded network project MEDEA and the International Forum to Advance First Responder Innovation \(IFAFRI\) invite to the Joint Event "Current & Foreseen Security Operations: Challenges & Capability Gaps" on 30 – 31 October in Athens. The event will conclude on 31 October with a so-called Technology Showcase, which aims to bring the civil security industry and operational organizations closer together. You will have the opportunity to talk to first responders about their needs and capability gaps. At the same time, they will be able to meet you and test your innovative solutions. We expect at least 100 representatives from emergency response organizations and authorities to attend in person, with additional participants joining virtually.

We are currently planning short presentations in English (ca. 10 min) by the companies on an innovative product, followed by a time slot to meet the companies at their tables. We will provide a two-person table, electricity, and internet for each company. You are more than welcome to bring exhibits, flyers, or banners. Please note that the product you are presenting should be on the market and available for purchase.

Facts:

When: 31 October ~10:00 - 16:00

Where: Athens

What: IFAFRI Technology Showcase during the Joint Event " Current & Foreseen Security Operations: Challenges & Capability Gaps ".

Why: Networking with operational organizations and civil security industry

Language: English

Application: Here

No travel expenses can be reimbursed by MEDEA and IFAFRI for representatives of SMEs and industry. The event, including all meals, is free of charge.